FACULTY OF MUSIC

Concert Calendar

2013 | 2014 SEASON

LAURIER Inspiring Lives.

wlu.ca/music

Welcome

AS DEAN OF THE FACULTY OF MUSIC
I am pleased to welcome you to Laurier's 2013-14 concert series. We contribute to Waterloo Region's vital arts community by presenting an outstanding array of student, alumni, faculty, and guest artist concerts. Each season we feature over 100 performances, ranging from weekly student recitals on Tuesdays and many large ensemble concerts, to regular professional concerts on Thursdays and about 25 graduating student recitals each spring. Most of these performances are free to the public.

I am delighted that Glenn Mossop will conduct our WLU Symphony Orchestra at the end of November. I'm grateful to Glenn, who is based in Stockholm, Sweden, for taking time from his busy international schedule to work with our students. This year, we will also begin an annual tradition, presenting an outstanding friend of the Faculty of Music in a special performance. Clarinetist James Campbell, who received an honorary doctorate from Laurier in 2012 and who is a frequent guest of the Faculty of Music, will return to the campus for a performance on March 8.

For events not listed in this brochure and for updated information please see our website or consult the digital display sign on University Avenue. I look forward to seeing you at our concerts during the coming season.

Dr. Glen Carruthers
Dean, Faculty of Music

Glenn Mossop was born in Calgary, Canada in 1951. Glenn studied piano with Gladys Egbert and subsequently at the University of Calgary. His teachers included Boris Roubakine, Willard Schultz and Leonard Isaacs. He graduated with a Bachelor of Arts (1971) and a Bachelor of Music "with distinction" (1975).

In 1976, Glenn studied orchestral conducting at the Royal College of Music (Kungliga Musikhögskolan) in Stockholm, Sweden. His principal teachers were Stig Westerberg, Siegfried Naumann and Jorma Panula. He received his Diploma in Conducting in 1982.

Since 1979, Glenn has been professionally active as a conductor in Sweden, Finland, U.S.A and Canada. He was Music Director of the Stockholm Music-dramatic Ensemble from 1979 to 1982 and was conductor at the Stockholm Folkopera from 1982 to 1988.

From 1989 to 1995, Glenn was Music Director and Principal Conductor of the Thunder Bay Symphony Orchestra in Canada and from 1999 to 2001 Principal Conductor of the Västerås Sinfonietta in Sweden. Guest-conducting appearances include engagements with many major symphony orchestras in both Sweden and Canada.

From January 2003 to June 2006, Glenn completed two interim terms as "Director Musices" at Lund University in Sweden.

Since January 2005, Glenn has been principal conductor of The Stockholm Youth Orchestra (Stockholms Ungdomssymfoniorkester).
