

LISPOP

Laurier Institute for the Study of Public Opinion and Policy

POSITION OPENING: RESEARCH ASSISTANT

LISPOP is recruiting undergraduate research assistants for the autumn 2011 semester to work about 10 hours a week.

Responsibilities include:

- database management and processing;
- statistical analysis;
- preparation of reports, tables, and charts;
- management of social-media applications (e.g., Twitter);
- miscellaneous administrative assignments.

Qualifications:

- able to work independently;
- strong problem-solving skills;
- experience with empirical research;
- familiarity with SPSS;
- some background in web maintenance and design would be an asset.

LISPOP provides further training where necessary. Remuneration is currently set at $12.00 / hour.

Email cover letter and résumé to: Dr. Andrea Perrella, lispop@wlu.ca.

Deadline: Friday, September 16, 2011.

---

LISPOP is a leading research centre that studies issues pertaining to the creation, use and representation of public opinion in the policy process. The centre serves as a catalyst to promote individual and collaborative research on these issues. In addition, LISPOP monitors the practices and claims of the public opinion and interest group industries, and serves as an educational resource to the university and the larger community on questions and issues pertaining to those claims and practices.

wlu.ca/lispop